GTMO Jazz Fest 2003

The Naval Base received a treat for the ears Sunday, Sept. 28. The very first GTMO Jazz Festival was held at Cooper Field.

Marion and his band warmed up the crowd with the sweet soulful sounds from the tracks of the his latest and previous albums. He also invited a special guest up on stage, NAVSTA's own Commanding Officer, Capt. Les McCoy. McCoy played the bass guitar while Marion jammed on his sax.

Dot gave the community a special treat when she performed a song titled "Guantanamo Bay, Cuba". A song she wrote especially for people of GTMO.

Now, what goes well with good music? How about great food! Representatives from Sysco Foods were on hand to provide lots of free goodies for the entire Naval Base. Everything from cakes, ice cream and pies to chicken, ribs and deep fried macaroni and cheese - that's right, deep fried macaroni and cheese, definitely not the way grandma used to make it.

GTMO's first Jazz Festival was a huge success, one MWR and the GTMO community hope to repeat in the future!

GTMO Fire Department Tells Residents “When Fire Strikes: Get Out! Stay Out!”

Fire Prevention Week is October 6-11, 2003

The Guantanamo Bay Fire Department is reaching out to residents this fall with a Fire Prevention Week campaign designed to save lives and prevent injuries by teaching important information about having smoke alarms and fire escape drills.

Fire Prevention Week is October 5-11 and is the basis for public fire safety awareness activities in fire departments and elementary schools across North America.

The 2003 Fire Prevention Week theme, “When Fire Strikes: Get Out! Stay Out!” is a lifesaving reminder to quickly leave your home, classroom or office when the smoke alarm goes off, and to stay out until firefighters say it’s safe to go back inside.

“During Fire Prevention Week, we are concentrating our efforts on making sure residents of Guantanamo Bay understand the need for working smoke alarms on every level of their home, the need for planning how you would escape in the event of a fire, and the need for practicing that plan regularly,” says Fire Chief John Mabbitt, of the Guantanamo Bay Fire Department. “Having early warning of a fire, and following a well-practiced escape plan to get out quickly – and stay out – can make the difference between surviving a fire and dying in one.”

To reach residents with these lifesaving messages, the Guantanamo Bay Fire Department is joining forces with NFPA (National Fire Protection Association), the official sponsor of Fire Prevention Week for more than 80 years. According to NFPA, half of all fatal home fires occur in the small number of homes that have no smoke detectors.

Many people overestimate the amount of time they may have to get out of a fire. A fire can become deadly in moments making every second count. That’s why we’re working to raise community awareness regarding the importance of installing smoke alarms and conducting fire drills.

The Fire Prevention Week 2003 advice is simple:

- ♦ install working smoke alarms on each level of the home, and test them monthly to ensure they are working; replace batteries at least annually;

- ♦ develop a thorough fire escape plan and practice it by holding fire drills twice a year; make sure you know two ways out of every room;

- ♦ teach everyone in your household that once they are out, they must stay out until firefighters say it’s safe to go back inside; get out first, then call the fire department.

Please join the Guantanamo Bay Fire Department and NFPA in this Fire Prevention Week effort. For more information about Fire Prevention Week please call Fire Prevention at 4598 / 4178.

Saving and Investing for your Future: Pay Yourself First!

From the Fleet & Family Support Center

Many people think they need a substantial sum of money to start investing. This is simply not the case. One objective of the “Saving and Investing for your Future” class is to demonstrate how investing is possible, even on a limited budget. Once you have taken care of “the basics” (reduce household debt, purchase adequate insurance, and set aside an emergency reserve), you are ready to explore affordable investment options.

“Sound financial planning is vital in today’s world. To get where you want to go in life, it is important to decide in advance how you will get there,” says Nancy M. Potter, Ph.D., Clemson University Cooperative Extension.

“Goals are your guide to personal, career, and financial success. These goals should be ‘SMART’: Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Reasonable, and have a specific Time set for accomplishing,” she explained.

Setting goals is an important part of the process. By keeping goals in view, you can direct your energies toward achieving those goals. Our Financial Educator is ready to assist you in identifying those goals and in drafting a plan to put you on the road to financial success.

The Fleet and Family Support Center is presenting “Saving and Investing for your Future,” a two-hour class that addresses the elements of a sound savings plan, investing techniques and stresses the importance of how time and compound interest work to the benefit of the small investor.

The class is Wednesday, October 8 from 9 to 11am at the Fleet and Family Support Center. For more information or to sign up for the class, call 4141.

Navy Ball News

Get your tickets now for the most talked about event of the year.

From JOSN Alexis Brown
Naval Media Center Detachment

If a party and celebration is what you're looking for, the Windjammer Ballroom is the place to be Friday, October 10.

The premiere ball in Guantanamo Bay is a week away, and the hottest ticket on the base is the 228th Navy Birthday Ball.

According to Chairman of the Navy Ball Committee, CWO2 Joseph King, "the 228th Navy Ball is a ball like no other."

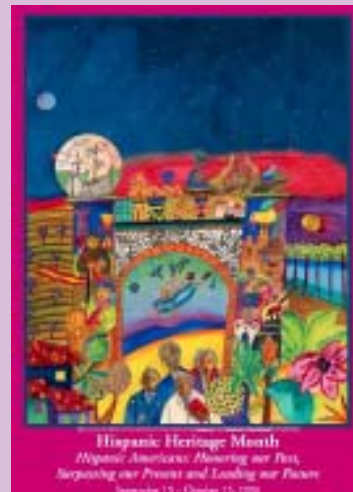

"Besides elaborate decorations, a full color guard, and certain ceremonial observances, there will be some other show-stoppers that you must be a ball comer to witness," said King. "It will be unique." King went on to explain that not only is it the Navy's 228th birthday, but it's the 100 year anniversary of the signing of the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base lease.

Only 300 hundred tickets are being sold and more than 100 of the tickets are already gone.

Both King and Steiner stressed that the uniform for the event is service dress whites or better. Steiner added, service dress blues is optional, but with either uniform, large or mini medals must be worn. According to King, the equivalent uniform for JTF personnel who are not Navy is a coat and tie.

Fundraisers continue up until the ball. Currently, the Spirit Toilet Bowl pass around is making its way around the base. Five dollars a day puts "the bowl" in the office or on the front lawn of the person of your choice. For reservations, call 2351, 5717, 72600, or 5729 for more details.

T-shirts, coins and tickets are on sale until the ball. You can contact your command representative or the administrative office in Bulkeley Hall for details.

GTMO Goes Wild

To many GTMO residents, Dr. Peter Tolson of the Toledo Zoo is a familiar face. New GTMO residents, however, were introduced to Tolson on Saturday, Sept. 28 at Windmill Beach when he gave a lecture on local reptile species.

Along with the informative lecture on how we can help our local reptiles maintain a healthy population, viewers were treated to an up-close look at some of the creatures who make GTMO their home.

Right and Below: One of GTMO's smaller residents get an upclose view of the Ghost Toad. Tolson warns residents not to kiss this fellow because secretions produced from the large warts behind its eyes can be toxic to humans and pets.

Top right: The Cuban Dwarf Boa is found in many dry and wet areas of the base. They are most often encountered on the road or among rocks at night.

Below: Audience members were not allowed to touch the various creatures that Tolson had on hand, but they did get to see them up close in their containers.

Right: The Cuban Boa is Cuba's largest snake and was one of the most impressive creatures displayed at the Reptile Show. The largest one recorded on the base was measured at 15 feet 9 inches. Although they are usually harmless, the Cuban Boa will bite if harassed. Tolson recommends keeping pets away from them and viewing them from a distance.

GTMO - How Does Your Garden Grow?

By Marianne Mabbitt

The re-opening of the PWD Plant Nursery on Saturday, Sept. 20 was a bloomin' success! Nine American Red Cross volunteers gave out approximately 100 plants to local residents. Many had been collecting their plant chits during the summer months and were anxious to redeem them.

"I've lived here two years and had bought plants from people before, but decided it was time I redeemed my chit and got my own plants for free," said Diana Shriefert.

Over the past few years, gardening has become one of the nations fastest growing and most popular hobbies. In today's high stress environment, nurturing a plant helps people relax, provides oxygen to the air and seeing plants develop and bring beauty to your yard and home can be a rewarding experience.

The plant nursery has an ample supply of indoor and outdoor plants. New species available include: jasmine, lemongrass and pencil hibiscus. The varieties of plants available are always changing and increasing. There are flowering shrubs and vine, trees, palms and succulents.

Gardening enthusiasts, Ruth Unruh and Amelia Smith have been busy recording and propagating plants, flowers and trees.

Amelia asks if you have a rare plant or plan to trim your overgrown ones, even common varieties, call to arrange a donation of plants or cuttings to the nursery. She says there are over 60 varieties of plants that are currently being propagated, but there are many more in our neighborhoods.

This summer, although the nursery was closed to the public, the volunteers were busy. They provided plants for several large base-landscaping projects. They also are involved in a sprouting project with the elementary school and are continuing with the fall planting soon. The plant nursery also provides potted plants for ceremonies to "dress the stage" of many events.

Recently, Plant Nursery Volunteer Co-Manager, Sandy Wilson was awarded a Certificate of Appreciation from Joint Task Force GTMO and two commemorative coins from the Command Sergeant Major and the Camp Commandant for "exemplary support of JTF soldiers." It was noted that the joy the volunteers work brings is immeasurable.

Volunteer Co-Manager Ed Wilson commented, "The community really does benefit, and everyone seems to like greenery around their house."

Change in Chits

Each month the Housing Dept. provides a plant chit or coupon to eligible residents. These are now available electronically so you can print them out on your own computer.

Each chit is now worth one point towards a free plant not two. Some plants are valued at two chits, and rare or mature plants are three. A list of species and chit values is listed at the nursery so you can save up and get the plant you really want. Be aware that chits older than four months are expired.

As one budding gardener said, "This is the best the nursery has looked in the five years I've been here."

So don't miss out. Plan to redeem your chit the first and third Saturday of the month, 8:30 to 11am.

Make sure you bring your base ID. You cannot redeem chits other than your own. Parking is in the western parking area adjacent to the golf course. If your work schedule prevents you from coming to the nursery, you can call to make other arrangements.

Volunteer Information

Volunteers are always welcome - no experience is required and training is provided. You can have lots of fun tending the plants while learning a great deal. Most of the volunteer work is done on Saturday and Tuesday mornings. For more information, call Denise Clark at the American Red Cross, 5060.

Special thanks to PWD for their support with supplies of soil, pots, tools, and more. Also, the staff would like to thank the Housing Department and everyone involved in keeping this valuable program alive for our community.

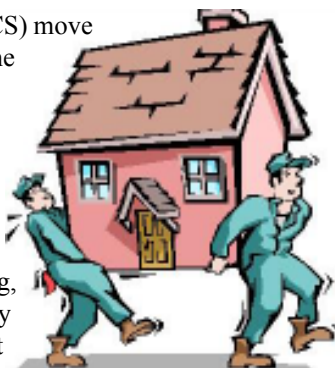

Reduce PCS Stress with Smooth Move

The stress experienced during a Permanent Change of Station (PCS) move comes from more than just the move itself. To help you cope with the effects, the Fleet and Family Support Center provides relocation assistance services by offering a workshop called Smooth Move to active duty personnel, U.S. civilian employees, and their families. It is recommended that personnel attend the workshop at least 90 days prior to PCS date.

The workshop provides the necessary information to process out of Guantanamo Bay. Representatives from Personal Property, Housing, Personnel Support Detachment, Veterinary Clinic, Tricare, and Security cover the required procedures for checkout. The Relocation Assistant Counselor will provide information on relocation stress and the Financial Education Specialist will provide information and tips on how to budget for the move.

The next Smooth Move workshop is October 9, 8am to noon, at the Fleet and Family Support Center. For more information or to sign up, contact the Fleet and Family Support Center at 4141. Spouses are encouraged to attend.

2003 Holiday Season Mailing Dates Correction

From FISCJAXDET GTMO

Below are the suggested 2003 holiday mailing dates that have been established for GTMO during the holiday mailing season.

Since GTMO is unique in the way we receive and dispatch mail (on average 3 to 4 days a week), we have adjusted our dates slightly from the time frame that is recommended by the USPS and MPSA.

It is recommended that GTMO postal customers ignore any other recommended mailing dates that are posted or published through other means, such as websites, messages, Navy Times, Postal Bulletins, etc.

For Inbound Mail: (Mail from the states to GTMO)

First-Class Letters/Cards: November 25

Priority Mail: December 1

Standard Mail: November 6

For outbound Mail: (Mail from the GTMO post office going to the states and elsewhere)

First-Class Letters/Cards: November 25

Priority Mail: December 1

Standard Mail: November 6

To ensure delivery of Christmas cards and packages, it is suggested that mail be entered into the system by the recommended mailing dates listed above. Postal Rule of thumb: Customers can never mail too early when it comes to Christmas Mailing, the earlier you mail, the better. For any further questions or concerns, please contact the Postal Officer at 2156 or email n45@usnbgmtmo.navy.mil
